

Don't Go To Molokai If You Have Influenza

Molokai's all right for sick folks or well folks if they have somewhere to live, but Dr. Goodhue, the government physician, warns influenza patients to stay away unless they have. Molokai's facilities are limited even for well people. Therefore he has sent out the following notice—

To Whom It May Concern

People are flocking in to leeward Molokai from other islands to escape and recover from the "flu."

Let me say that it is very unwise for any one to start away from home after getting "flu" when the fever is on.

Stay at home and do the best you can.

Two cases came over from Lahaina with temperatures of over 104° F. They are recovering but under difficulties both to physician and themselves.

And if you are coming to escape the "flu," write and find out if we can make room for you. There is room only for a limited number. Undoubtedly our climate is good—the best I think of any in Hawaii, not excepting Kona, for all diseases except tuberculosis. Pulmonary tuberculosis does not do well here. There are no accommodations for such patients as no one will take them in. Therefore stay at Leahi, Kula, or, if at home—stay there, rather than to venture on a perilous trip here.

For other respiratory troubles, convalescence from operation or disease, anywhere from Moanalua to Kaunakakai is good.

Kaunakakai In Winter

Kamalo at any time is too windy, but Moanalua, Waialua, Pukoe, Ualapue, Keawau, Kawela and Kaunakakai (in winter) are most excellent.

In an epidemic of some 90, many of them very severe cases of "flu," we have a mortality of about one per cent (taking out complications.) At sea-level certainly this climate does wonders for all disease of the respiratory tract (except tuberculosis, as mentioned before.)

Kalae, Kualapuu are too high and cold for lung and throat affections. At least, they have not done so well there in this epidemic. The moderate trade wind, the coolness, the sunshine almost every day, the healthful surroundings, separated dwellings, all conduce to recovery.

But be sure and not come unless you write first. I will be glad to interest myself and find boarding places. A few of our families will take in visitors who have no communicable disease.

E. S. GOODHUE, M.D.
Resident physician, leeward Molokai
Ualapue, March 10, 1920.

Molokai Musings

A new store is going up at Pukoe near Leong Shurtz's bakery.

Several new government tracts along the road from Kamalo to Moanalua, have been homesteaded and are being cleared and fenced. Wood lots are being cleared, the wood corded, and sold to Mr. Hitchcock who is shipping about 500 cords of kawe a month.

Much land is out to gardens, potatoes, corn, etc. There seems to be a great awakening among planters.

Much Influenza

A great deal of sickness prevails due to the influenza which is epidemic on Molokai. There have been so far over 79 cases, some of them very severe pneumonia. A few cases at Halawa, 12 at Kualapuu camp, 10 or 15 at Kaunakakai, at Waialua, Kamalo, Kulanaha, Moanalua, Kawela and so on. The resident doctor who was summoned to appear at Waialua on the 10th as witness in the murder case was unable to leave. The doctor is rushed day and night. The district nurse is expected April 1st.

Heavy rains at Kamalo and Kawela this week but none east of there.

Rev. Father Thomas was unable to make regular monthly trip to Maui on account of the Molokai epidemic.

Not Keen On Suffrage

The women of Molokai are not very much enthused over suffrage. Outside of the election of the board of supervisors for their county, they haven't much interest in politics, and they are satisfied with the present board which is doing so well for Molokai. Let well enough alone, is their stand. The most of them are busy at home, and feel that their husbands are capable of running the outside business.

JEWS DEPRIVED OF CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS

LONDON, March 1.—The Jewish Correspondence Bureau in London learns that the Polish Parliament has passed a bill excluding from the right of Polish citizenship all Jews who have lived in that part of Poland which was formerly under Russian rule. About 100,000 Jews are thus deprived of their rights, as before the war an expensive and very intricate process of registration in that region was generally regarded as a pure formality.

Further the so-called foreigners resident in Warsaw have now been informed that their houses are to be confiscated and on protesting have been told that they must vacate them within 24 hours. The Jewish deputies, Mr. Hartglas and Mr. Gruenbaum, have waited on the Premier to protest vehemently against such measures.

NEW JERSEY MAY TEST PROHIBITION AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The supreme court today granted the state of New Jersey permission to institute original proceedings to test the validity of the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution.

MAUI TWENTY YEARS AGO

From Maui News, March 17, 1900.

The Iao Stables now runs a stage to Kihel daily, the quarantine having been raised at that place as far as Manuel is concerned.

On Sunday morning, March 11, the steamer Maui touched at Lahaina and landed Mrs. Scrimgeour, and Mrs. Alcott. At Maalaea Bay she landed the following passengers: Miss Hart, Miss Simpson, Miss Fyfe, Miss W. G. Scott, Miss McLain and Mr. T. F. McTigue. The Maui went on to Hawaii carrying the following passengers: Miss Hattie Conn, Miss Franc Eaton, Miss Payne, and Mrs. Lillerbridge for Hilo. All the above were in quarantine at Honolulu, and brought permits from the Board of Health.

The Waialua Sugar Mill was compelled to shut down on Saturday morning, a week ago, on account of not having warehouse room for the accumulation of sugar on hand. On Monday noon there were 25,000 sacks stored awaiting shipment. The Dora Blum took 8000 sacks on Monday and the mill started up again on Tuesday morning. The average daily output of the mill is 50 tons.

The Waialua Plantation has introduced the use of steam ploughs and one is now in operation near the road between Waialua and Waikapu. It is in charge of John Fagerstrom and is proving quite a success.

Waialua was visited by a genuine Kona wind for a few hours on Monday morning. No damage was done save to overturn a section of cane flume between Waialua and Waikapu.

Town lots in the little towns which dot central Maui as well as the small tracts of irrigated agricultural land surrounding them bring prices which would make even a boom town or fruit ranch in California look to its laurels. There is really very little real estate which can be bought at any price and when a piece is offered for sale everybody wants to buy it. In this connection the News takes the liberty of giving the Hawaiians a word of advice. Don't sell the little two patches which your fathers left you. You owe it to your children to preserve a home for them.

Now that Waialua has taken a step forward in the line of improvements it would be well for the sheriff and others in authority to inaugurate a permanent system of disposing of the dust and rubbish which is continually collecting. Every householder in Waialua should be required and if necessary compelled to keep his premises swept clean. And there should be a paid inspector to see that this is done.

There should also be means provided to haul off to some suitable place the accumulation of rubbish. Tubs and barrels should be provided for the reception of refuse and it should be hauled away once a day if necessary. This is all that should be necessary to say on this point—but we may have to revert to it again.

Manager Lowrie of the H. C. & S. Co., states that everything is flourishing on the plantation and that the mill is turning out 150 tons of sugar per day.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26, 1900.—Senator Perkins secured the insertion of an amendment in the Hawaiian Bill today providing that the coastwise trading regulations of the United States shall be extended to the islands. This means that all the trade between the mainland and the islands must be carried on in American bottoms as it is now done between the ports on the mainland.

Waialua—a bank. Waialua just now offers an excellent opening for a loan and exchange bank. There is a large movement of money and banking business on Maui which now flows through Honolulu and the Post Office. There is also considerable demand for ready cash, backed by gilt-edged security. Important transactions are frequently delayed or prevented by lack of the accommodations which a loan and exchange bank would furnish. There is enough active capital on Maui to establish such an institution but the business men here have been so long accustomed to conducting their banking and exchange through Honolulu that they can hardly understand what a saving in time, money and temper it would be to be able to transact their banking business at home. The attitude of live men both on the islands and on the Coast is respectfully invited to this article. There is capital in Waialua ready to back such an enterprise if taken in hand by the right people and it would be a money-making enterprise.

BOSTON, March 1.—For the promotion of instruction of pupils of the high school age in the essentials of patriotic citizenship, the committee on education of the Massachusetts Legislature is urged to indorse a bill to enable the State Department of Education to employ for one year a lecturer to address the pupils in the high schools on such historical, patriotic and American subjects as the department may select, the person so appointed to receive a salary to be fixed by the Legislature.

CITIZENS OF MAUI, Attention!

War has been declared! The forces of Maui are to be mobilized at once. Orders have been issued that the army is to move against the enemy March 22.

The enemy forces are already strongly entrenched on our island. Tin cans, rubbish, old bottles, each numbering several army divisions are operating in extended order. Special detachments of barrel hoops have been detected by our Scouts and it is rumored that there are "nests" of broken dishes hidden in obscure corners. Certain "fill boxes" garrisoned with broken soda water bottles endanger transportation.

Poison gas is being used by detachments of refuse.

We must fight fire with fire. Every dweller of the island should enlist and be ready to fight during the week of March 22. We must ruthlessly apply the torch to enemy forces that will burn. Burial and deportation must be meted out to such enemies as bottles, cans and scrap iron.

There are many states that would rule, but we recognize only the United States of Cleanliness, Neatness and Order.

Against all her enemies we will fight to our last drop of perspiration.

To arms, comrade, and let us make a clean sweep of all our foes during Brighten-Up Week.
